Richard Addison Is Pastor Of Community Church

Community Baptist Church of Torrance is announcing the calling of their new minister, Richard C. Addison. The new pastor is a native of California and long-time resident of Salinas. Pastor Addison and his wife, who is a registered nurse and graduate of the University of California School of Nursing in San Francisco, have come to Torrance with their young son, Mark, and have made their home at 411 W. Fiat St.

Community Baptist Church in calling its new minister has taken a great step forward. The church was originally the Mexican Baptist Church of Torrance, a mission of the First Baptist Church. It later changed its name to the 223rd Street Baptist Church, while continuing its ministry to the Spanish speaking people.

With the calling of their first full-time pastor, they have now changed their name to the Community Baptist Church of Torrance with the new desire to be of service to all people in the extended neighborhood of their church. The church, in beginning its new emphasis and program, is receiving additional support from the American Baptist Convention, while remaining a mission of the First Baptist Church of Torrance.

The church, which is located at 925 W. 223rd St. near Vermont Ave., has morning worship at 11 a.m.; youth fellowship at 6 p.m.; evening service at 7 p.m. Church school for all ages convenes at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday, at 7 p.m., a Bible study and prayer session is held.

Pastor Addison extends a cordial welcome to the community to attend the services.

MATURING DEBT

Economic Intelligence says, "There are two ways of handling maturing debt; either retire it through accumulated Treasury surpluses; or refinance it by issuing new securities. Most of the time the treasury is forced to use the second alternative." Intelligence concludes that advance refunding does not solve key problems of debt management, but it provides greater flexibility to the Treasury and is a valuable innovation. Such refunding is all right as long as too many don't take it for granted as a way out of paying the national debt.
